The Chilians Make a Desperate Descent Upon the Peruvian Coast-Pisagua Assaulted and Captured. with Terrible Disaster on Both Sides-Particulars of the Fight.

The Chilian Fleet Consisted of Sixteen Vessels-San Bernardo Captured by the Land Forces-A General Advance of the Chillan Army -Iquiqui Next.

NEW, YORK, November 24.—A Lima letter says that at last the long-heralded descent of the Chilians on the Peruvian coast has been attempted and made. On Sunday morning, second instant, sixteen of the enemy's ves-sels, transports and men-of-war appeared off Pisagua, and without loss of time directed their course toward the shore. Pisagua was defended by a detachment of nine hundred Bolivian troops, under chief command of Colonel Granier; but it appears that General Buendia, in charge of the defenses and army of Tarrapaca was likewise in the place at the of Tarrapaca was likewise in the place at the time. Two Parrott rifles, one hundred pounders, were mounted on the bluff overlooking the town, but it is asserted were without adequate shelter. The fight was heavy and the loss of life great. The shore batteries made a gallant resistance, but Pisagua was captured, and Buendia retired toward San Bernardino, a short two leagues from the scene of batte. The battle on land must soon take place. Telegrams just received announce that Buendia has fallen back to Pena Grande, on the thirty-four-mile stretch between the inland termini of the Pisa-gua and Iquique railroad, and had been joined by his reinforcements, making in all about nine thousand men. The Chihan advance was at Santa Catalina, thirty miles or more from Pisagua, on the railroad, and was still going forward toward Buendia's position. Prada and Daza, or their columns, must also be advancing toward the province of Tarapaca from Arica and Tacua directly in the rear of the Chilians. The number of the latter is variously estimated at probably ten thousand to eleven thousand soldiers. Fears are entertained of the destruction of Ignique by the united Chiles. l'acua directly in the rear of the Chilians. destruction of Iquique by the united Chilian pable of bearing arms must enroll themselves in the line of national guard regiments; but the attacking force of Chilians in Tarapaca seems to secure the safety of Lima from any similar assault. It is not probable that the enemy is strong enough to attempt such an undertaking, and it is evident that the main object of Chili is the nitrate of Tarapaca, and possibly later on her attention may be turned to the guano deposits in the same

Unlocks the starry palace gate,
And dreamily the night air fills
With "deep still voices" of a fate
That breathes in cadence on the air,
Then, weary heart, lay down thy care
And ope the spirit's lips in prayer!

And when the deep dark shadows fall
In the full blush of eventide;
When from thy cottage voices call
Where love is sweet affection's bride—
Go! let them nestle then and there
On thy strong heart their young heads fair,
And ope thy spirit's lips in prayer!

Or if thy best beloved are fled,
Thy sweeter hopes of younger years
Are cradled with the sleeping dead,
Thou laid'st them all away in tears,

Y., November 15.—I saw in the Albany Journal of yesterday that two unknown persons went over the Wood's Falls last Wednesday afterboon. Will you please give me a description of them, as two persons left here recently, since which time nothing has been heard of their whereabouts? When they left here they started in the direction of Potsdam.

At railroad depot. J. W. WALDRON. Miss Alexander, who, with Cyrus and Oscar House, saw the boat go over the brink of the cataract, has been interviewed by a Dispatch reporter. She stated that she and Os-car and Cyrus House were driving to Brownville from Watertown on Wednesday after-noon, and when within a few rods of the stone house she saw a boat floating down the river with two persons in it. She was the first of he three to notice it, and called the attention of the gentlemen with her. After it bewere going over the falls the horse was stopped, and Mr. Oscar House ran down to the bank of the river in hopes that he might save them. It has been generally reported that one of the persons said to have been London, November 23: Jules Noel, French drowned sat in the bow of the boat, while the other was in the stern, but Miss Alexander says that the parties were seated on the same seat, side by side, and that both were facing the falls. The tragedy excites much interest

Very Severe Criticism on the Recent Bilver Speech of the Representative of the Shoe-String District-Gold the only True Standard of Values.

Mobile Register: General Chalmers, Mississippi, who has always a good deal to curred on the twenty-second instant, but was say on every subject and seldom displays much wisdom in saying it, takes issue with senator Lamar on the silver dollar question One of the Mississippi editors has said that "the indorsement of Lamar is a condemnation not only of the last legislature of Mississippi, but of all the other members of congress." And thereupon General Chalmers proceeds to air his opinions as to what should constitute a silver dollar. He says, as to Lamar's views:

Lamar's views:

Nor do I believe that there is any large number in the State who concur in his present position—that more silver should be added to the silver dollar in order to make it what the Republicans call an "honest dollar." This is equivalent to making gold the standard of value to measure silver by as well as all other products, and this also will increase the value of all debts and add to the burdens of our debtors. returning home ran a good chance of being for a dollar. No man can sell silver bullion to the treasStates. Such sentiments inflict a wound ury for more than its market value in gold. The treasury buys the silver at its market value, and converts it into coin, and no man can get a dollar of that coin to pay his debts, or for any other purpose, for less than a dol-lar in gold. We suppose, however, that Chalmere, like Felton, De La Matyr and the other wiseacres who presume to set at defiance all the old rules of political economy, would let anyone take ninety dollars worth of silver bullion and have it coined into one hundred dollars and expect it to march along side by side with one hundred dollars worth of gold How much would General Chalmers and his the dust beside them. As Applied to Present Politics-He Believes that the Democratic Party is in the Threes of Dissolution -The Result of the Toombs Dispatch.

It is Repudiated by the People of the South Generally, Georgia Particularly, and Does Not Represent their Sentiments - The Presidential Question.

Chicago Tribune: Judge Lochrane, of Atlanta, Georgia, is at present in this city, at the Grand Pacific hotel, where he has been for a few days. The judge is a Democrat. He has been circuit judge in his State and presiding justice of the Georgia supreme court. He took his oath of office in 1861 under the Confederacy. To day he is reconstructed and a true Union man, whose views have weight in his native State. A Tribuse have weight in his native State. A Tribune reporter had a talk with him in relation to the Toombs dispatch, recently published in the papers in this city, and which is causing comment throughout the north and south. Judge Lochrane is evidently a Grant man.

He said:
"General Grant is the man for the south by all odds. He could be more magnanimous, and President Hayes is only carrying out that which Grant inaugurated. The south is satisfied with Grant. It recognizes the fact that it would have been better if Lincoln had lived. He would have acted differently from Johnson, and whatever he would have done would have met the approval of the people, because he had their proval of the people, because he had their hearts and confidence. Grant has expanded in statesmanship since he has been abroad, and profited by what he has seen in other lands, but he is still a man of the people. He is absolutely the color was absolutely the color. Beyond Expression.

He is absolutely the only man who could rally the South. I speak now as a Democrat. He is appreciated in the South for the magnanimity with which he treated Lee at the time of his surrender."

The judge alluded to General Grant's recent utterance at Haverly's to show that he felt kindly toward the south.

"It was Grant alone who prevented Andy Johnson from having Lee arrested in Rich-"The letter of Dr. Felton, member of con gress from the seventh district of Georgia,' said Judge Locbrane, "is only the forerunner of the entire disintegration of the Democratic party in the State, which has been going on for some time. Mr. Speer, the member from the ninth district in Georgia, will inevitably follow the line of Dr. Felton in my judgment. And Mr. Stephens is only bound to the Democratic party by a thread, which is lia-ble to snap at any moment, as he has already announced his determination not to be governed by caucus dictation. Mr. Stephens, too, has always been a warm personal admirer of Grant, and has paid him a very high tribute in his book on The War Between the

"What effect will this independent move-

"Well, the general impression prevails through the whole south, and is entertained by a majority of its people, that the extra session of congress was a very great blunder, and that the material interests and prosperity of the south demands a radical change of policy. The sentiment is not concealed, but outspoken, that the Democratic nominee for President in 1880 will be beaten. And even should the south succeed in electing a Democratic President, it would result in very little benefit to the south, as the administration would fear to do anything for us lest it would lose its popularity at home. There is a very would fear to do anything for us lest it would lose its popularity at home. There is a very vast change in the south going on among thinking and business men, who realize that immigration and capital must be brought into it or the general interests of the country will dwindle and drift us into poverty. In fact, there is a new south being born, rather than a new party, ready to recognize in good faith the results of the war, and to make reedom of the press, speech and ballot, a fixed fact, as well as put down lawleseness, as we have been doing in Georgia for some

EDITORS APPEAL—In answer to your "Inquirer," and other interested parties, as to why the repairs and other improvements to the wharf are not being made, and also the amount of money on hand to the credit of the wharf and landing fund—in answer to the above questions, I will say that the District engineer, whose duty it is to have the work done when it is ordered by the commissioners, has made a survey and estimate of the repsirs and improvements necessary to be made immediately, and he will submit the same to the commissioners at their next meeting. He will recommend that a riprap wall be put down about twenty feet out in the river from the present terminus of the paved wharf, and said rock rip-rap wall to commence at the north gutter of Court street and run south to the south gutter of Monroe street, the levee then to extend out to said wall, which will make an casy incline to work on and protect the levee from the encroachment of the river. In addition to the above he will recommend that the levee be extended two hundred and fity feet further south than its present terminus. When this is done the paved levee will then be within one hundred and fifty feet of the old elevator. If the commissioners order this work done next week (and no doubt they will, as Messrs. Burke and Overton and other commissioners have examined it and they see the importance of it,) the work will be done as fast as it is possible to get rock to do it with. It is very hard to get rock just now for either levee or streets. I would also state that the holes in the levee were caused by the breaking of private sewers that run across it, and the owners thereof have been notified to put down an iron pipe that will not break. This will be done as soon as possible, so that it may be spent in the United States court, and H. C. Our hability to get rock has been the cause of our delay. Hoping that this will be satisfactory. I am very respectfully, P. KALLAHER, Wharfmaster. THE WRECKS.

The seeds of disease are being thickly sown, in city and country, in the crowded tenement, and in the isolated farmhouse, by the widespread neglect of hygiene. The siarming prevalence of polluted wells, unventilated living-rooms, and defective drains, is being recognized on all sides, indeed, the popular awakening on these subjects is most gratilying, and it is a sure promise of reform. The American people are quick to learn, and they are fast realizing that prompt action is necessary in such matters. But, as the Sanitary Engineer says, in order to be productive of real benefit, sanitary action should be systematic. It must be placed on a right besis, backed by law, and sustained by the force of public opinion. Furthermore, the ablest minds must be enlisted in the work.
